Thanks, Tom. Already got a response – Here's what my data folks found...

I couldn't find any facility in Bristol, PA know as Trinseo in either ECHO or ICIS. However, when I googled Trinseo in Bristol, PA, it said that the plant was located at 100 PA-413, Bristol, PA 19007. Then I went back to ECHO and searched for all facilities in Bristol, PA (151 total) and looked for a facility at that address. Low and behold, I found a facility called Arkema. The echo report can be found using the following link: <https://echo.epa.gov/detailed-facility-report?fid=110000336191>

The has been quite a bit of compliance monitoring activity at this site in the past 5 years. Mostly on the air side. The state just completed a full compliance inspection at the site on 02/28/23.

Nothing for NPDES as it does not appear to have a NPDES permit.

For RCRA, the state has done 2 inspections in the past 5 years (i.e., on 06/22/18 and 09/15/21).

Regarding enforcement, no formal or informal enforcement at this site for the past 5 years.

Thank you for checking. The permit is attached.
Tom.

Hi Tom. Nice talking with you today. If you are able to send me the Nonresponsive based on revised scope permit, I would appreciate it. I'll also double check with my data folks to confirm that we haven't taken any penalties with that facility.

Thank you!
